Catering assistant on New Year Honours List

A CATERING assistant from Barking & Dagenham College has been awarded the British Empire Medal in the Queen's New Year Honours List.

Sandra Coats, who has worked in the college's refectory for six years, and particularly enjoys helping students with learning difficulties and disabilities.

The 57-year-old said: "I am absolutely delighted; I am over the moon. It is a great honour and I am very grateful to Barking & Dagenham College for nominating me.

"It is fantastic to know that my efforts have been recognised."

Sandra was taken aback when she received the letter telling her about her nomination, and added: "I thought it was someone having a joke with me.

"I couldn't do what I do without the support of my family, especially my husband Rob and my daughter Michelle."

Sandra lives in Romford with her husband and has four grown up children and three grandchildren.

Authority heads back to court in bid to remove Travellers from park

COUNCIL SEEK ACTION TO EVICT TRAVELLERS

COUNCIL officials are expected to head back to court tomorrow (Friday) in a bid to remove Travellers camped in Eastbrookend Country Park.

The authority had sought a legal hearing for eviction before Christmas after the group moved in to the Millennium Centre in the park.

However, after the Travellers brought evidence to court that one of their members was unwell, the magistrate decided to adjourn the hearing until tomorrow.

Councillor Mick McCarthy, cabinet member for environment said: "This is a very disappointing decision which meant that one of our most beautiful areas of green space was blighted over the festive period.

"This particular group of Travellers has previously set up in various parts of the borough over the last few weeks - and each time the council and other agencies have taken urgent action to have them evicted from where they illegally camp."

Mr McCarthy said the council would be making further representations to government about the Travellers and the delay in process.

"I want our award-winning parks to be somewhere people want to visit and spend their leisure time," he added.

"Parks should not be blighted by illegal encampments like this. It is simply unacceptable - I look forward to the Hearing resuming and the Travellers' eviction soon after."

'Passionate' volunteer shortlisted for award

A DEVOTED volunteer from Barking has been shortlisted in veterinary charity PDSA's annual Volunteer Awards for her outstanding passion and commitment to the charity.

Georgina Rushen is up against two other hopefuls in the coveted 'New Volunteer of the Year' category.

The animal lover gives up her free time to help at PDSA's busy store in Station Parade, which raises vital funds for sick and injured animals.

Georgina joined the store five months ago and since then has become an invaluable member of the team. Her role involves customer service and she excels at meeting and greeting customers.

Pet lover Georgina has been around cats all her life and it was her love for her current two - Felix and Woody - that inspired her to volunteer for PDSA.

"My pets have needed to use a PDSA vet in the past and I was always very impressed by the service and wanted to give something back, so volunteering at PDSA's Barking store seemed like the perfect opportunity," she said.

"I love being part of something that means people who can't afford to treat their pets can get help. I dread to think how many pets would go untreated without the service that the PDSA offer.

"The best part of volunteering is meeting other like-minded people and even socialising with them outside of work. I'd definitely encourage other people to try it, it's rewarding in so many ways and I get great satisfaction from helping to support a charity I believe in."

REWARDING: PDSA volunteer Georgina Rushen.

Boroughs to merge youth offending service

BARKING and Dagenham Council is to merge its Youth Offending Service with that of neighbouring Havering.

The change began in October when a senior manager from the borough was seconded to Havering to manage the service. Barking and Dagenham YOS will manage the Havering service from March this year with a full merger expected in March 2014.

A review of the services suggests the move will improve the quality for young people in both boroughs and 'greater flexibility'.

A council statement said: "Both authorities were sure that each YOS would benefit from improvements with no loss of frontline staff before agreeing to merge. Consultation on the plans for the full merger will take place soon.

"Merging services will allow each borough to focus their resources where they are most needed, helping troubled young people, while also protecting the future of youth offending services in each area."

FUN WHILE LEARNING: Free after-school science workshops will be on offer by City Year's School Power programme.

Learning the power of science

SCHOOLS in London are being offered free after-school science workshops by a charity aiming to boost a love of learning about the subject.

City Year's School Power programme in partnership with National Grid will be delivered by more than 100 young mentors and tutors across the capital.

The charity has already staged 33 sessions and it is now widening its invitation to schools with relatively high numbers of children from low income families on its roll.

Coordinator Adam Wisden said: "School Power is a great way of engaging children in science and engineering. The sessions are designed to be fun and interactive and all the children get their hands dirty with exciting experiments including explosions and horrible smells.

"School Power is designed to complement the key stage 2 science curriculum, so not only do children have a great time, but the teachers benefit from a really valuable reinforcement of their lessons. At City Year we believe every child should have access to high quality opportunities to learn, so all of our activities are targeted at those children that need the most support."

Leopold Primary School, in Willesden, has already hosted one of the sessions. Lucy Sheppard, from the school, said: "The children really enjoyed the School Power workshops. They are well designed and use good materials.

"The City Year team were very good at engaging the children and keeping them hooked throughout. The children loved making wind-mills in the renewable energy section and their 'zoomers' as part of the forces and gravity section. I would recommend School Power to any primary school that is aiming to inspire children with science."

Schools interested in hosting School Power workshops should contact Adam Wisden on 020 7014 2680 or awisden@cityyear.org.uk

The sooner you act; the sooner you'll enjoy peace of mind

IT is that time of year again. Yes, New Year resolutions – stopping smoking and losing weight will doubtless top the list – will be made and, as quickly, broken.

Well, here's a thought for you. Forget yourself for once and, instead, make a resolution which is far more important for your family.

Writing a will and ensuring your estate is in order are the most important tasks you'll ever carry out for them. A lifetime's hard work could be ruined if you don't plan for the future as carefully as you have organised the present. Of equal importance is protecting your interests while you are still alive in the event of you losing your mental capacity to handle your own legal affairs, which you can do through a lasting power of attorney. The alternative could be the state making decisions for you!

The sheer importance of these tasks means it's something best left to a professional.

Choose a member of the Society of Will Writers and you'll not only be guaranteed the professionalism you're looking for, but two other equally important qualities: experience and understanding.

The Society of Will Writers is the UK's largest professional body for the will-writing and estate-planning industry and has a strict code of practice. Members of the Society undergo professional training and carry extensive professional indemnity insurance.

Richard Cook, Essex Regional Chairman of the Society of Will Writers and a director of Paragon Legal Services, said: "A will and, particularly, lasting power of attorney are vital to have if you wish to protect your and your family's future. When you talk to a Society of Will Writers member, everything is arranged to help you understand the complex world of wills and its associated services such as lasting power of attorney, estate planning, probate administration and funeral plans.

"As part of a highly-personalised service, you can receive a visit in your own home and every step you take and every document you sign will be explained in plain English. Clients are offered free written quotes before work commences and fixed price services are always offered with no additional hourly-charged fees."

So if you'd like personable yet professional advice from an estate planning specialist in the comfort of your own home about one of the most important tasks you'll ever contemplate, contact Paragon Legal Services today free on 0800 0747 642. A consultant member of the Society of Will Writers will come out to see you. Further information can be found at www.paragonlegal.co.uk

Hospice urge donations of unwanted Christmas gifts

PEOPLE with unwanted Christmas gifts are being urged to donate them to charity.

Saint Francis Hospice shops are looking for donations of new and quality unwanted items including clothes, toys, furniture, jewellery and electrical goods.

The fundraising team would also welcome donations of unopened boxes of chocolates, biscuits, bottles of wine or spirits, hampers as well as perfume gift sets or vouchers as they can make excellent raffle prizes at events during the year.

Steve Rose, hospice shops general manager, said: "Please don't throw unwanted Christmas presents away as we are urging people to donate them to our shops as it could be just what someone else wants.

"Perhaps a new present received at Christmas means there's now something in your house you no longer need. Please do consider giving it to us. We want to make sure our shops are well stocked for the January bargain hunters. The money we can make by selling your donations could really make a difference to people in this community with cancer or another life-limiting illness who need the specialist care provided by Saint Francis Hospice.

"If you are bringing in a donation please sign up, if you haven't already done so, for gift aid because if you are a tax payer we can benefit by getting an extra 25 per cent of the value of the goods we sell from the government."

There are 14 Saint Francis Hospice shops across Havering, Barking and Dagenham, Brentwood, and Redbridge and as well as many more local drop spots at businesses and shops. Details of your nearest hospice shop or drop spot can be found at www.sfh.org.uk or by calling 01708 376269.

STOCKING UP: Volunteer shop co-ordinator John Brice with unwanted Christmas gifts that will raise funds for the local Saint Francis Hospice.

Write a line for video and donate

AN ANIMATOR and designer from Chadwell Heath has launched a novel way of raising funds for his local hospice.

Sean Sears, who has worked on animation sequences for TV shows like Horrible Histories and Deal or No Deal, has got together with designer Daniel Marks, also from Chadwell Heath, to create a video animation sequence with a twist.

The script is being written by members of the public, who are donating money to Saint Francis Hospice per line of the story that they compose. Any donor will receive a writer's credit and see their section of the story animated in the final film. More than £240 has already been raised.

Sean, 26, was inspired to create the animation after his mother Anita was cared for by the hospice last year.

"The hospice supports families that need them the most and we wanted to try and raise some cash for a smaller charity that's close to home" he said.

Sean and 27-year-old Daniel will be working in their spare time to create an animated film that they aim to keep to around five minutes or less so it will be suitable for easy viewing on YouTube and other means of broadcast. All donors will be notified once the film is online.

"People who have already donated via our Just Giving page are already trying to stitch us up by introducing characters and people that they think will be tricky to design which we think is great," he added. "We are both horror movie fans so some suggestions of characters from horror films to go along with Richard Gere and Jeff Goldblum who already feature would be really welcome!"

If you would like to add a line to the story (maximum 20 words) and make a donation to Saint Francis Hospice go to www.justgiving.com/Sean-Sears1

WINNERS: Jaydem with nanny Juels, great grandparents (Mr and Mrs Wisker) and Haven House chief executive, Mike Palfreman.

Couple celebrate after winning charity lottery

A COUPLE from Chingford have won £1,500 in the Haven House Hospice Lottery.

Mr and Mrs Wisker, from South Chingford, decided to support the hospice's lottery because their great-grandson, two-year-old Jaydem, uses Haven House day-care and respite services.

"We are delighted with our windfall, it helped to make Christmas extra special; but more than that, we know that by supporting the lottery, we will be helping local families like us, who have a seriously ill child," Mrs Wisker said.

The kind-hearted couple are so committed to the Woodford Green charity, that they donated £100 of their prize money back to the hospice.

For more information on the lottery, including signing-up for the draw or becoming a canvasser, call The Local Hospice Lottery on 0845 122 0772 or visit the website www.localhospicelottery.org

Skate park lit up

NEW lighting has been installed at a skate park in Castle Green after previously being vandalised.

The new equipment has been fitted with anti-vandal protection.

The skate park, which is situated in the south-east corner of Castle Green Park and to the side of Jo Richardson Community School, is frequently used by a vast amount of residents in the borough who also enjoy BMX biking, inline skating and roller skating at the facility.

Councillor Jeanne Alexander, cabinet member for crime, justice and communities, said "This skate park is used by so many local young people who need an area that is safe and secure. We hope that the fitting of the new lights will stop vandals from causing any further damage and encourage more of our residents to come and enjoy this fantastic facility."

Barking and Dagenham Council is now working with the Friends of Castle Green, which is a community group set up because of a joint interest in developing the park.

Hazel Clark, from the group, said: "We are a very keen group who have some great ideas for what we want to see in this park. We are looking into the possibility of planting some more trees in areas in the park and having a play area for children."

The group meets up every three months to discuss their ideas. The next meeting will be taking place at 7pm on Thursday March 21.

Students replicate London icons for parade

DESIGN: Students show their creations to Barking and Dagenham mayor Anthony Ramsay and mayoress Jeanne Alexander.

STUDENTS from Barking and Dagenham College built models of London's iconic landmarks for the New Year's Day Parade.

The borough's mayor and mayoress – councillors Anthony Ramsay and Jeanne Alexander – asked the college to take part and its carpentry and painting and decorating departments set to work with 10 days' notice.

The carpenters made the buildings out of wood and then passed them to their fellow students to decorate.

Eleven students worked on the project, helped by curriculum manager Tony Caruthers and tutors David Baxter and Jack Sotiriou.

Mr Caruthers said "The Mayor inspected the models and expressed his gratitude and said that the students' work was to 'a very high standard'.

"The other tutors and I also think they have done a great job and we are very proud of what they have achieved."

The iconic London landmarks created by the students included the Shard, the Gherkin, Tower Bridge, the Millennium Wheel and Tower 42 at Canary Wharf.

The students also made a telephone box, postbox and, to complete the look, they included giant gold, silver and bronze Olympic medals.

Tom Cruise brings Jack Reacher to life

By Damon Smith

CHRISTOPHER McQuarrie's film opens with heart-stopping scenes of a sniper taking aim at innocent bystanders on a riverbank, including a nanny cradling a terrified young child in her arms.

Viewed through the gun man's high-powered rifle scope to the steady beat of his breathing, the massacre sends shivers down the spine as shots ring out and figures tumble like rag dolls to the ground.

McQuarrie accomplishes this haunting set piece with brio and restraint, replaying the slaughter from myriad perspectives later in the film as police uncover the clues to the shooter's identity.

Nothing else in Jack Reacher comes close to this bravura sequence and the initial rush of adrenaline in our veins eases to a steady pulse.

Former military officer Jack Reacher (Tom Cruise) is a ghost in the system, even to the US government with all of the top-secret technology and resources at its disposal.

He is lured out of hiding when a mentally unstable sniper, James Barr (Joseph Sikora), is arrested for the murder of five innocent people outside PNC Park in Pennsylvania.

Before Barr slips into a coma, he writes down three words - Get Jack Reacher.

On cue, Jack makes contact with lead detective Emerson (David Oyelowo) and District Attorney Rodin (Richard Jenkins), convinced that the cops have caught their perpetrator.

"I didn't come here to help (Barr). I came here to bury him," growls Jack.

However, Rodin's daughter, defence attorney Helen Rodin (Rosamund Pike), isn't con-

FILM FACTS

Jack Reacher (12A, 130 mins)

Thriller/Action/Romance.

Starring: Tom Cruise, Rosamund Pike, David Oyelowo, Richard Jenkins, Robert Duvall, Jai Courtney, Werner Herzog, Joseph Sikora, Alexia Fast.
Director: Christopher McQuarrie.

vinced of Barr's guilt and she hires Jack to check the forensics.

A scattershot chain of evidence leads Jack to criminal mastermind The Zec (Werner Herzog) and his sharp-shooting henchman (Jai Courtney), whose business interests may play part in the unfolding mystery.

Jack Reacher is the first chapter of a potential new franchise for Cruise, based on the ninth book in Child's ongoing series.

It's a solid genre piece, punctuated by smartly orchestrated action sequences, including a night-time chase through city streets and a couple of bruising fist fights.

Cruise isn't stretched in the lead role, which asks him to play rough and tough, telling one bad guy: "I mean to beat you to death and drink your blood from a boot!"

That seems slightly extreme, not to mention unhygienic.

Pike is an appealing love interest but Herzog is woefully miscast as an ex-con, who gnawed off his digits in prison and inspires unintentional hilarity rather than fear with his utterances.

Thankfully, Robert Duvall's appearance as the owner of a shooting range prevents the film from capsizing.

Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.
4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
 - (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
 - (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
 - (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. 8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
- (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
